

High School Educational Study Tours to China

Building resilience together in a changed world

We have learnt how important it is to have trusting sustainable relationships during a crisis. Join like-minded students to visit this country of vast contrasts and rich history and culture. This study tour is also available for school groups on request or individuals to explore behind the scenes China with experienced accompanying education leaders.

This will truly be a life changing experience for students with a keen interest in the Chinese language, culture, people, politics and history and future international business environment.

Global Connections –Global Mindsets

Beijing, Qingdao, Shenzhen

Kia ora koutou katoa | Nǐ hǎo

This study tour is designed for the next generation of leaders who understand that they must work in a cross-cultural environment. New Zealand and Chinese future leaders must meet now to develop post-COVID entrepreneurial and innovative mindsets.

Do you think the same, want the same and are you heading in the same direction? What will the world be like when you are working side by side?

This 12-day educational study tour is for senior high students from New Zealand schools to join us and visit the largest and oldest country in the world and spend time with its people. It is fully escorted with experienced New Zealand education leaders who have been visiting China for many years and more recently leading youth leadership delegations.

You will meet local innovators, teachers, students, historians, government officials and young business entrepreneurs.

Travel – IGENZ is an education specialist, not a travel agency. Based on our recommendations, participants arrange their own international travel, insurance and visas. This mitigates financial risk for families.

Safety - All plans and arrangements reflect new and revised health, safety and COVID-19 best practice.

Registration

Application for registration is invited from senior high students aged 15 – 18 years of age. A reference of suitability to travel in a group representing your country is encouraged.

“China can be very stereotyped as a country; you don’t realise how much of a wonderful country it is until you have been there. The people, the food and places you visit blow your mind. I would recommend it to anyone who has the opportunity, because you will never regret it. You meet so many new people, make so many friends and become like a family at the end of the trip. You visit so many places and learn so many leadership skills. A trip you will never forget”.
Caitlin Smith, Mt Hutt College, Canterbury.

The Institute of Global Engagement New Zealand IGENZ is an award-winning educational study tour provider. We design, develop and host university and school groups to and from New Zealand, China, USA and Australia.
